 Sheila is very much involved in working with young people, in trying to show them the problems and accidents that can happen when they get involved with drugs while driving with their friends. How a party can end up in death of a friend Sheila explained how dangerous it is to think you can control yourself and others while under drugs control. "Region one authorizes Charles Suderman and/or David Miller as CO-Chairmen of The 'Convention 2009' to change the name on the account, 380543349, previously At Guaranty Bank and now known as BBVA Compass Bank to `convention 2011 ' and keep the same signatures': Charles Suderman, David Miller, and Mary Allen on the new account"

Motion passed

One of the CPA members suggested that each CPA should have a chance to host a meeting especially the newer member associations. He also suggested one person be in charge of the host list, so there would be no confusion.

Angleton CPAAA Activity Report March 13, 2010

Class 21 is going great. There are 20 in the class and seems to be the best class yet. Of course we say that about every class!

Relay-For-Life is April 9. We will be walking with the Police Department at the county fair grounds this year. Several of our CPA has volunteered to walk through the night.

A golf Tournament to raise money for Relay-For-Life will be held at the Brazos Golf Center on March 26. Our CPA will be selling sausage on a stick at the event.

Our alumni will be purchasing vests to wear at different events. We are waiting for the logo to be finished. We feel the vests will identify the Angleton CPA. We only need to decide on color.

The Coushatta trip was a success. All the proceeds go to the Beth Duncan Memorial Scholarship Fund. Another is planned for sometime in June.

We will have election of officers and the board at the April meeting with the new officers and board taking office in May.

We have been working on our by-laws. While we aren't finished, we have made some changes to make our meetings run smoother.

The newly formed Angleton Police Officers' Association is holding a BBQ cookoff June 11th-12th at the American Legion in Angleton. This will be held in conjunction with the Angleton Fire Department. All proceeds will be split between the PD and the Fire Dept.
